

THE USUAL SUSPECTS

Bad breath. A little extra pudge. They might seem like minor issues, but they can signal the beginning of larger problems. Early detection and treatment can save you money and give your pet a longer, healthier life. Talk to us if you see any of these signs in your pet.

PUDGY PATSY

known couch potato

Domestic short hair
orange tabby

F, 4 years old

Weight: Too much!

Characteristics:

Belly drags on ground,
can't reach to
groom herself

Reward: Weight
reduction program
to reduce risks
of diabetes,
heart disease,
and arthritis

HALLY TOSIS

stinky breath offender

Brindle,
mixed breed

F, 3 years old

Weight: 25 lbs

Characteristics:

Bad breath

Reward:

Dental exam
and cleaning
to address tartar
and gum disease

LUMPY

fugitive

Sandy brown,
mixed breed

M, 10 years old

Weight: 40 lbs

Characteristics:

Lumps and bumps of varying sizes on body

Reward:

Assessment and early detection/treatment
of potentially cancerous growths

SNIFFLES

persistent sneezer

Domestic medium-
length hair,
gray tabby

M, 16 weeks old

Weight: 4 lbs

Characteristics:

Drippy nose and
runny eyes

Reward:

Exam and treatment to identify cause
and prevent complications

Start a conversation with your veterinarian today.

Visit avma.org/OunceOfPrevention

